

August 22, 2023

Dear Honorable Judge Moore,

I'm writing to you with the help of my lawyer because I have trouble expressing myself well when writing. I suffer from ADD and a learning disability, which interfere with my reading comprehension, spelling and writing, and I often rely on others to explain things to me. I have been teased and reminded of my shortcomings most of my life, which has caused me much pain. Although I am ignorant of how judicial proceedings truly work and, as I explained, have certain difficulties, I am aware of right and wrong. I know that my participation in obtaining the loans described in the indictment was wrong. I humbly apologize to you and the United States and accept responsibility for my actions as set forth in my guilty plea. I humbly ask for your understanding and mercy.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Andre Lorquet", with a horizontal line extending to the right.

Andre Lorquet

A small, handwritten mark in black ink, resembling a stylized lowercase letter 'n' or a checkmark.