Proceedings: (IN CHAMBERS)	ORDER DENYING MOTION TO MODIFY CONDITIONS OF PRETRIAL RELEASE

On February 12, 2021, Defendant Artur Ayvazyan filed a motion seeking modification of certain conditions of pretrial release. (Dkt. No. 117). On February 16, 2021, the government filed an opposition, (Dkt. No. 119). The matter has been referred to the undersigned for determination. (Dkt. No. 122). Having carefully considered the above-referenced filings, the Court DENIES the motion.

The Court continues to believe that home detention and travel restrictions are necessary to assure Defendant's appearance at trial and the safety of the community from economic danger, given the nature of the pending charges. See Opposition at 4-5. As the government points out, these conditions permit Defendant a reasonable opportunity to seek and maintain employment with pre-approval from Pretrial Services. To the extent Defendant encounters unforeseen delays in completing deliveries on any given date, Defendant is able to provide notice to, and obtain approval from, Pretrial Services to return home at a later time. Id. at 3. If Defendant finds these requirements cumbersome, he may choose to use an electronic ankle bracelet as an alternative to the Voice ID form of electronic monitoring.¹

IT IS SO ORDERED.

¹ The parties may submit a stipulation to replace the Voice ID form of electronic monitoring requirement with the electronic bracelet.
