

To whom this may concern,

I am Desmond Williams. And I just want to tell you a little about myself. My childhood was great. Grew up with both parents, that taught me morals, respect, discipline and much more. I admit. I have made mistakes. But the mistakes I have made don't make me a bad person. But I've learned from them, and now I am a better, man, father, and person. I do several activities for my community. Hamilton County. Jasper fl. For the kids and adults. I train kids for football during the summer, I am the spokesperson for the community. I work at a clothing store, TruvibesLLC, where I have helped gross an extreme increase in sales. With my promotion and marketing. I do music. Were a tour is being formed to tour black colleges about mental health. I have two kids. That both live with me. 2yr old daughter, and a 15yr old son. I am a great father and loving being. Both of my parents are sick. And I go far and beyond helping them as well. I am extremely sorry for the mistake that I made. I am just asking for a second chance to continue to better myself, my kids, family and community. I'm doing my best and going to continue to do my best, to be a better person. I am a God fearing man. And I know he has all the power. And I know I'm here for a reason. And a purpose. I pray that this letter helps and gives you a great understanding of who I am. Thank you!
