MAY WE INTRODUCE THE STARS OF THE RAINBOW JAMBOREE?

DAVID DALE

Another Jamboree artist who is no stranger to the music business, David Dale has been exposed to it from the day he was born. Just recently, he moved to Tennessee from California to join his father on stage at the Rainbow Jamboree.

GEORGE THACKER

George is a harmonica virtuoso who has appeared with Grandpa Jones, Charlie McCoy, and Archie Campbell. The late Alex Haley acknowledged George as one of his favorite musicians.

BRAD PETERS

When young Brad begins to play the five string banjo, the crowd roars its approval! Brad was the Tennessee Junior State Champion Banjo Player in 1990.

THE OLIVERS

So young, yet so talented! Lynae, 13, and Jake Oliver, 16, have been performing together for ten years. They are equally capable in classical violin, ethnic, Texas and old-time fiddle, bluegrass, folk and country western music. They have been featured performers at fairs, festivals, and musical showcases throughout North America, and have countless awards, achievements and rave reviews to their credit.

COUSIN CLEM

This shameless huckster will tickle your funny bone, and all the rest of them, too! His zany antics have made people laugh from coast to coast, and you just never know what kind of nonsense he'll be up to next!

THE HOTTEST TICKET IN TOWN!

AVA BARBER

Ava Barber was born to sing! Her career literally began in her playpen. Before she could sing the words, she sang the melodies.

Her performances include twelve years on national television, four years with the Bonnie Lou and Buster Show, and eight years as the featured country vocalist on the Lawrence Welk Show.

She has appeared on the Grand Ole Opry, Nashville Now, Hee Haw and numerous other country shows all across the United States.

As a recording star, her big hit was "Bucket To The South."

Ava has performed with such greats as the Statler Brothers, Barbara

Mandrell, Steve Wariner, Dottie West, Randy Travis, Merle Haggard and Conway Twitty.

You, too, will love the way she sings, especially gospel songs that come straight from her heart.

DICK DALE

Although Dick Dale's musical career didn't actually begin as an infant, he also has an impressive background as an entertainer.

A show business veteran since the age of sixteen, Dick was a featured performer with the Lawrence Welk Orchestra for over thirty-two years, appearing regularly on the popular television show.

Considered to have one of the best baritone voices in Country Music, Dick is an accomplished musician as well. His singing and saxophone playing has been seen and enjoyed by millions of people over the years. An extraordinary talent not to be missed.
