CR 323-003

O R D E R

On January 23, 2024, the Court conducted a sentencing hearing for Defendant Gladys Harun, in which it took evidence regarding the appropriate amount of restitution owed by Defendant. The evidence supports, and the Court intended, that Defendant pay $547,095.07 in restitution to the United States Small Business Administration. Both the Government agent and the Court announced this amount during the course of the hearing. (FTR,¹ at 2:32:05 and 3:06:58, respectively). Indeed, the Judgment and Commitment Order entered on January 26, 2024, reflects the amount of $547,095.07. (Doc. No. 38, at 6.) It has come to the Court's attention that the restitution amount read into the record at the conclusion of the sentencing hearing was misstated to be $552,679.14. This was a clerical mistake; the mistake was also recorded in the minutes of the proceeding. (See Doc. No. 35.)

¹ FTR is the For the Record recording system of the district court. The Court is able to listen to the recording and note the time stamp of the cited remarks.

Under Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 36, the district court may correct "clerical mistakes in judgments, orders, or other parts of the record and errors in the record arising from oversight or omission." The Court's misstatement at the conclusion of the hearing was an oversight undetected by the Court, counsel, and the United States Probation Office until the minutes of the proceeding were docketed and reviewed. A correction to the record is therefore necessary under Rule 36. This correction is in no way a reassessment or modification of the Court's earlier sentencing decision and is supported by the record evidence.

Upon the foregoing, the Court hereby ORDERS, ADJUDGES, and DECREES that Defendant Gladys Harun shall pay restitution in the amount of $547,095.07 as reflected in the Judgment and Commitment Order. The Clerk is directed to correct the docket entry of the Judgment and Commitment Order to the extent it is incorrect. The Clerk is further directed to add a remark on the public record that the minutes of the sentencing proceeding have been amended by this Order. Finally, the Clerk shall provide a copy of this Order to the court reporter to be appended to any transcription of the sentencing proceeding.

ORDER ENTERED at Augusta, Georgia, this 29th day of January, 2024.
