To Whom It May Concern,

I have had the opportunity of building, learning from my past behaviors and reshape broken areas of my life. This has been a humbling process which has allowed me to advocate for myself and other youth. I am requesting your consideration for a reduction in probation time with confidence knowing the hard work put in leading up to this request.

I have experienced a personal evolution — one rooted not only in compliance with probation requirements but in a true, heartfelt desire to live differently. My journey has not been easy with being on probation and dealing with depression along with grief. Despite the mental health issues, I continue to face the challenges with honesty and perseverance.

One of the most inspiring and humbling parts of this journey has been my dedication to serving as a referee and role model for young students. I serve as a role model, and I notice how some of the student look up to me — not just because of the games I referee but because of the encouragement, patience, and positive example I bring into each interaction.

As a Youth Behavioral Specialist, I speak to the residents from a place of lived experience and genuine care and not from a place of judgement. I speak to them about discipline, respecting themselves, and staying drug-free. I consistently encourage them to make good choices and overcome setbacks.

My efforts are not performative. I truly want better — for myself, my family, and for those I meet. I have embraced accountability, sobriety, and service in a way that reflects authentic growth and my long-term commitment to change.

For these reasons, I sincerely believe that I not only met the expectations placed upon me and have gone above and beyond in demonstrating personal responsibility and positive transformation. A reduction in probation time would support my continued progress and allow me to further invest in the meaningful contributions I have made and am already making.

Thank you for your time, understanding, and consideration.

Sincerely,
Cameron P. Henderson
