Jason S. Rathod
Migliaccio & Rathod LLP
412 H St NE
Washington DC 20002

Jason S. Rathod litigates class actions across the firm's areas of practice, including consumer protection, worker rights, and civil rights. Mr. Rathod has been appointed class counsel in a number of noteworthy class actions. He has been the principal brief writer in several critical submissions, before trial and appellate courts, that resulted in favorable rulings concerning class certification and summary judgment. He was also co-lead trial counsel in an individual auto fraud case involving economic losses in which the jury returned a plaintiff verdict on all counts and awarded millions of dollars in punitive damages (later reduced on remittitur but to a sizable sum).

Mr. Rathod has been recognized as a leader in his field beyond the courtroom. He is the author of several published works, including a law review article on aggregate litigation in poor countries. Another recent law review article that he co-authored, comparing public and private enforcement in the United State and Europe, was cited by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau in its proposed rule prohibiting class action waivers in the fine print of consumer contracts.

Mr. Rathod graduated from Grinnell College in 2006 (B.A. with honors in Political Science and Religious Studies). After college, he traveled to Fiji, Mauritius, South Africa, Trinidad & Tobago, Guyana, and Suriname on a Watson Fellowship, studying the Indian Diaspora. He graduated law school from the Duke University School of Law in 2010, where he was an Articles Editor of the Duke Law Journal. In law school, he also worked for the Self-Employed Women's Association in Ahmedabad, India on behalf of street vendors seeking an injunction against the city government for unlawful harassment and evictions.

Notable Cases Include:

- Representing consumer classes in insurance overcharge cases, including by drafting appellate briefs about the propriety of class certification. The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed order for the classes 3-0, leading to several multi-million-dollar settlements;
- Representing consumer in consumer fraud trial for economic losses that resulted in verdict for the Plaintiff on all counts and a multimillion dollar punitive damages award (later reduced on remittitur, but still totaling in the hundreds of thousands of dollars and representing a 25:1 ratio of punitive to economic damages);
- Representing consumer class of laptop purchasers against multinational corporation in nationwide class action settlement valued at over $16 million;
- Representing consumer class of vehicle purchasers and lessees in nationwide class action settlement, following allegations of engine defect
- Representing consumer class of vehicle purchasers and lessees in nationwide class action settlement, alleging oil dilution defect

- Representing consumer classes in two cases in D.C. Superior Court arising from the alleged unlawful repossession of vehicles, resulting in classwide settlements with significant pro rata payments and injunctive relief, including debt relief
- Representing consumer class at trial in product defect class action;
- Representing worker class in wage theft assistant manager misclassification case against national restaurant chain that culminated in a $16.5 million settlement;
- Representing worker class and collective against multinational startup company for independent contractor misclassification claims, resulting in $8.75 million settlement;
- Representing worker class in wage theft rate miscalculation case against multinational fracking company, resulting in $6 million settlement;
- Representing over 1,500 servers in multistate collective action, resulting in $1.72 million settlement;
- Representing consumer class in defective laptop case against multinational computer manufacturer; and
- Representing consumer class in defective construction case against multinational home builder, drafting key briefs leading to class certification and maintenance of suit in court, rather than arbitration.
