Yes, please let me know. We'd think about Customers Bank data in the same way, but would want to discuss further any transfer of Kabbage direct loan data, as that is technically owned by Amex.

Thank you, Regina. I will confirm the encryption point you note below. The testing for data accuracy is already part of the workflow plan.

I really appreciate the quick response. If this same S3 solution is of interest to Customers Bank or other potential successor servicers, I will let you know.

Many Thanks,
Sal

Hi Sal,

I'm confirming that Amex is comfortable with K Servicing partitioning the CRB loan files and other CRB loan data in the S3 container and making a copy for CRB, as we discussed. We would just ask that you all perform sufficient testing to confirm that the query you run doesn't inadvertently capture any non-CRB loan data in the container, and that you ensure that the data transmission was encrypted at two levels – at transmission level and at file or field level.

Best,
Regina

Regina – let me know if you have a few minutes to connect. I have a quick question about data that I don't think necessarily has to go through Weil and Sullivan.
