Committee/Subcommittee hearing bill: Commerce Committee

Representative Brackett offered the following:

Amendment (with title amendment)

Remove everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Subsection (1) of section 368.061, Florida Statutes, is amended, and subsection (4) is added to that section, to read:

368.061 Penalty.—

(1) A ~~Any~~ person who violates ~~any provision of~~ this part, or any regulation issued hereunder, is ~~shall be~~ subject to a civil penalty not to exceed the following:

(a) Until June 30, 2025, $266,015 ~~$25,000~~ for each violation for each day that such violation persists, except that the maximum civil penalty may ~~shall~~ not exceed $2,660,135 ~~$500,000~~ for any related series of violations.

(b) After July 1, 2025, maximum penalties established by the Florida Public Service Commission by rule. In establishing such penalties, the commission must consider the penalties established in paragraph (a) and make revisions based upon consideration of the consumer price index, penalties established in federal law for pipeline safety violations, and the intent of the legislature that the commission maintain its certification with the Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration, or any of its successor agencies, to enforce pipeline safety. The commission shall review the penalties established in this paragraph at least annually and revise as necessary, utilizing the considerations specified in this paragraph.

(4) The commission may adopt rules to implement this section.

Section 2. This act shall take effect July 1, 2024.

T I T L E A M E N D M E N T

Remove everything before the enacting clause and insert: An act relating to civil penalties under The Gas Safety Law of 1967; amending s. 368.061, F.S.; increasing the civil penalty amount for violating The Gas Safety Law of 1967; requiring the Florida Public Service Commission, after a date certain and at least annually thereafter, to establish and revise maximum penalties by rule based on specified factors; providing rulemaking authority; providing an effective date.

Committee/Subcommittee hearing bill: Commerce Committee

Representative McFarland offered the following:

Amendment (with title amendment)

Remove everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Subsection (8) of section 501.174, Florida Statutes, as created by HB 1459 or similar legislation, 2024 Regular Session, is renumbered as subsection (9) and a new subsection (8) is added to that section to read:

501.174 Artificial intelligence transparency.—

(8)(a) All information held by the department pursuant to a notification of a violation under this section or an investigation of a violation of this section is confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution, until such time as the investigation is completed or ceases to be active. This exemption shall be construed in conformity with s. 119.071(2)(c).

(b) During an active investigation, information made confidential and exempt pursuant to paragraph (a) may be disclosed by the department:

1. In the furtherance of its official duties and responsibilities;

2. For print, publication, or broadcast if the department determines that such release would assist in notifying the public or locating or identifying a person that the department believes to be a victim of an improper use or disposal of customer records, except that information made confidential and exempt by paragraph (c) may not be released pursuant to this subparagraph; or

3. To another governmental entity in the furtherance of its official duties and responsibilities.

(c) Upon completion of an investigation or once an investigation ceases to be active, the following information held by the department shall remain confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution:

1. Information that is otherwise confidential or exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution.

2. Personal identifying information.

3. A computer forensic report.

4. Information that would otherwise reveal weaknesses in the data security of an entity or person.

5. Information that would disclose the proprietary information of an entity or person.

(d) For purposes of this section, the term "proprietary information" means information that:

1. Is owned or controlled by the entity or person.

2. Is intended to be private and is treated by the entity or person as private because disclosure would harm the entity or person or its business operations.

3. Has not been disclosed except as required by law or a private agreement that provides that the information will not be released to the public.

4. Is not publicly available or otherwise readily ascertainable through proper means from another source in the same configuration as received by the department.

5. Reveals competitive interests, the disclosure of which would impair the competitive advantage of the entity or person who is the subject of the information.

(e) This subsection is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2029, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that all information held by the Department of Legal Affairs pursuant to a notification of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, or an investigation of a violation of that section, be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution for the following reasons:

(1) A notification of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, may result in an investigation of such violation. The premature release of such information could frustrate or thwart the investigation and impair the ability of the department to effectively and efficiently administer s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes. In addition, release of such information before completion of an active investigation could jeopardize the ongoing investigation.

(2) Release of information that is otherwise confidential or exempt from public records requirements once an investigation is completed or ceases to be active would undo the specific statutory exemption protecting that information; thus, clarifying that any protections currently afforded to such information are not removed.

(3) An investigation of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, is likely to result in the gathering of sensitive personal identifying information, which could include identification numbers, unique identifiers, professional or employment-related information, and personal financial information. Such information could be used for the purpose of identity theft. The release of such information could subject families to possible privacy violations, as it would reveal information of a sensitive personal nature.

(4) Notices received by the department and information generated during an investigation of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, are likely to contain proprietary information. Such information derives independent, economic value, actual or potential, from being generally unknown to, and not readily ascertainable by, other persons who might obtain economic value from its disclosure or use. Allowing public access to proprietary information through a public records request could destroy the value of the proprietary information and cause a financial loss to the entity or person. Release of such information could give business competitors an unfair advantage.

(5) Information held by the department may contain a computer forensic report or information that could reveal weaknesses in the data security of an entity or person. The release of this information could result in the identification of vulnerabilities in the cybersecurity system of the entity or person and be used to harm the entity or person and clients.

(6) The harm that may result from the release of information held by the department pursuant to a notification or investigation of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, could impair the effective and efficient administration of the investigation and thus, outweighs the public benefit that may be derived from the disclosure of the information.

Section 3. This act shall take effect on the same date that HB 1459 or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.
