which employs countless hard-working Americans, is a critical component of our national defense. Each day that the USS St. Louis sails in support of her missions around the world will serve as a testament to the hundreds of thousands of hours necessary to manufacture such an advanced, impressive ship. Without the contributions of the industrial base, our Navy would not be able to build the fleet it needs to confront today's challenges and prepare for future threats.

For decades to come, the USS St. Louis will represent the people of St. Louis and the Show-Me State of Missouri around the world. I am proud of the role she will play in defending our Nation and safeguarding freedom across the globe. I congratulate the ship's sponsor, Barbara Broadhurst Taylor, along with the Navy and the officers and crew of the USS St. Louis, on this historic occasion and wish them all the best as the USS St. Louis enters service.●
