Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM SPEAKER: By direction of the Committee on Appropriations, I submit herewith the Committee's report on the revised suballocation of the Committee's allocations for fiscal year 2023.

The suballocations contained in this report revise the suballocations set forth in House Report 117–390 and are consistent with the levels contained in the "Allocation of Spending Authority to the House Committee on Appropriations" printed in the Congressional Record by the chair of the House Committee on the Budget on June 21, 2022, pursuant to H. The revised suballocations also incorporate anticipated adjustments to the Committee's 302(a) allocations for amounts provided for fiscal year 2023 in legislation that has been ordered reported by the Committee on Appropriations, and for which the chair of the Committee on the Budget may make corresponding adjustments pursuant to H. Res. 1151 and the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

Sincerely,

ROSA L. DELAURO,

MINORITY VIEWS

The Fiscal Year 2023 302(b) revised suballocations, adopted by the House Appropriations Committee on June 30, 2022, included no changes to the base budget authority levels contained in the initial allocations, adopted on June 22, 2022.

Committee Republicans unanimously opposed the allocations, which would increase discretionary spending by 9 percent over fiscal year 2022, with a huge 14 percent increase for non-defense and only 4.5 percent more for defense. Without bipartisan and bicameral support, these allocations stand no chance of becoming law.

Committee Republicans will continue working to secure adequate funding for critical national defense programs at this time of growing international threats, while also advocating for fiscally responsible bills to control the record-high inflation Americans face under this Congress and Administration.

KAY GRANGER.
