Notable Representations:

- Commercial Litigation
- Trademarks
- Copyrights
- Trade Secrets
- Real Estate

Notable Representations:

- Ironhawk Technologies v. Dropbox. Currently represent Ironhawk Technologies in a trademark infringement case against Dropbox, alleging that Dropbox infringes upon Ironhawk Technologies' SmartSync® trademark. While the district court originally dismissed Ironhawk Technologies' claims on summary judgment, that decision was reversed in its entirety by the Ninth Circuit in a to-be-published opinion.
- Atari Cases. Currently represent Atari in a number of actions seeking to protect its trademarks and copyrights from infringement. Have previously obtained several settlements of such cases for Atari, on confidential terms.
- Nexus Pharmaceuticals v. Central Admixture Pharmacy Services (CAPS). Defended CAPS against unfair competition claims premised upon argument that one if its products was sold in violation of the Drug Quality and Security Act. CAPS' motion to dismiss was granted in its entirety on preemption grounds. (Currently represent CAPS in Nexus Pharmaceuticals' appeal of this ruling in the Ninth Circuit.)
- PennyMac Loan Services v. Black Knight, Inc. Defended Black Knight against antitrust claims brought by PennyMac alleging that Black Knight sought to monopolize the market for mortgage servicing software. Obtained transfer of claims to Black Knight's home district of the Middle District of Florida.
- NexGen HBM v. ListReports. Defended ListReports against trade secret and false advertising claims, where NexGen HBM sought in excess of $50 million in damages. After litigating for more than three years, NexGen HBM voluntarily dismissed its claims with prejudice prior to the hearing on ListReports' motion for summary judgment.
- Allergan v. Imprimis. Defended Imprimis against unfair competition and false advertising claims brought by Allergan. Allergan requested $7.2 million in lost profits and as much as $54 million in disgorged profits, but the jury ultimately awarded Allergan just $48,500 for lost profits and zero dollars for disgorged profits.
- Solomon Capital v. Lion Biotechnologies. Represented Lion Biotechnologies in connection with its appeal of an order granting a motion to dismiss of its fraud-based counterclaims and defenses against a purported broker seeking compensation for its failed attempts to raise capital. The New York Supreme Court, Appellate Division, reversed the lower court's decision in its entirety and denied the motion to dismiss. (Representation at prior firm.)
